

Since our inception in 1991 eden inc. has offered a high quality pre-finished interior wood product to the housing industry. Along the way we have increased our product line, and worked to achieve the highest quality finished product in the industry.

Over the years we have expanded our customer base and modified our programs to fit the specific needs of each customer. We offer a large selection of mouldings, doors, stair parts, jambs, and accessories available for quick delivery. We have also developed an extensive network of vendors enabling us to find almost any type of interior wood product our customers could be looking for.

The employees of eden inc. are dedicated to continue to provide a quality product and diversify with the changing needs of the housing market.

Published March 2005

eden, inc. - KNOX, PA (814) 797-1160